Miss Powell was taken to the R.A. Hospital, Edmonton, on the 18th, for treatment.

Mrs Geo Shreeves was operated on yesterday at the R.A. Hospital.

The big Hasenpfeiffer banquet seems to have given local curlers renewed vigor, as they are now working at the curling business in double shifts.

While taking the switch a Main St. crossing about 3 a.m. Saturday a unit of an east bound freight jumped the rail. An auxiliary gang from Edmonton was summoned and got to work on the derelict. The track was all clear by the time the Transcontinental flyer was due.

The officers and members of Meridian lodge are putting on an invitation dance tomorrow (Friday) night in Moose Hall.

The Rifle Club's dance on Monday evening was a very popular affair; this being the first one the club has held for several years. Barths provided the music.

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of the local Consolidated S. D. met in Town hall Tuesday afternoon; the meeting was opened by the chairlady, Mrs Wood. The report of the secretary treas. was read and evoked some discussion.

Garbe v. Zander.

The long drawn-out litigation between Douglas Garbe and Charles and Mike Zander and R Shaw came to an end in the Supreme Court Tuesday morning when Mr Justice Tweedie dismissed the case. The case arose out of a collision at the corner of the Seba road and the Jasper Highway between a motorcycle driven by Garbe and a truck operated by Charles Zander and being driven at the time by R Shaw. Following the accident C. Zander was convicted by Magistrate Sunley of Wabamun under the V. & H.T. Act but the conviction was set aside on appeal.

Garbe then sued Charles Zander, R Shaw, and also Mike Zander as the registered owner of the truck for $10,000 damages.

After a trial lasting a day and a half Mr Justice Tweedie dismissed the action as against all defendants.

H H Parlee K.C. and Bruce Massie acted for Garbe, while Neil D McLean K.C. and Geo. J. Bryan acted for the three defendants.

National Peace Study Project To Bring To People Of Canada Vital Facts Regarding Peace

A national peace study project to bring to every man and woman in Canada the importance of peace, was announced by J. E. MacPherson, president of the Association of Canadian clubs, and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, president of the League of Nations society.

In "A letter to all Canadians," the details of the society's project were announced. For the first time in Canadian history, it was stated, an attempt was to be made through the combined use of the radio, the press and group discussion of have a simultaneous study of a subject throughout the nation.

What is described as Sir Arthur Currie's last great message was used by Mr. MacPherson and Mr. Lapointe to emphasize the importance of their plan, and his question whether Canadians were beating themselves "in this night of hysteria which may end in war" was reiterated.

Eleven Sunday afternoon addresses have been arranged to introduce the various topics listed in the discussion and study outline. The addresses, which will be broadcast, follow:

Jan. 21—Rt. Hon. Sir Robert Borden and Hon. Mr. Lapointe on Canadian responsibilities.

Jan. 28—Col. George A. Drew, president of the Toronto branch of the League of Nations Society in Canada, on "Why Should Canadians Be Interested in World Peace?"

Feb. 4—Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, on "How Is Peace To Be Maintained—By Force or Co-operation?"

Feb. 11—Dr. H. F. Munro, superintendent of education for Nova Scotia and former delegate to the Assembly of the League of Nations, on "What Does Partnership in the Collective System Involve for Canada?"

Feb. 18—Hon. Irene Parley, member of the Alberta government and former delegate to the assembly of the League of Nations, on "What Might Happen to Canada If the Collective System Were Abandoned?"

Feb. 25—Mrs. H. P. Plumtree, member of the Toronto board of education and former delegate to the assembly of the League of Nations, on "Present Obstacles to Peace."

March 4—John W. Daffoe, editor-in-chief of the Winnipeg Free Press, on "Why Did the Collective System Fail in Manchuria?"

March 11—Hon. R. J. Manion, minister of railways and canals and delegate to the last assembly of the League of Nations, on "Disarmament."

March 18—J. M. MacDonnell, president-elect of the Toronto board of trade, on "How Can We Work For Peace in Canada?"

March 25—Prof. T. W. L. MacDermot, national secretary of the League of Nations society in Canada, on "How Can Canada Work For Peace in the World?"

April 1—Hon. Mr. Lapointe and Brooke Claxton, Montreal, vice-president of the League of Nations Society in Canada, in a summary and review.

Should Study Politics

All Those Who Have Interests Of Country At Heart Should Give Subject Attention

Politics, linked up as it is with the ruling and progress of a people should not be considered degrading or beneath the notice of respectable persons. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former minister of justice, told the Women's Canadian club at Quebec.

Stressing that people should not deny politics due to a dislike for this or that politician, Mr. Lapointe argued that after all the basic material of politics was human nature with all its qualities and imperfections.

All those who had the interests of their country at heart, he emphasized, should study politics.

AN EXQUISITE GIFT IS THIS FRENCH NIGHTIE ENSEMBLE OF SHELL BLUSH SATIN AND ALECON

Wouldn't you adore receiving it? It's unbelievably simple to make it, and the cost is surprisingly small. This little nightie is so smartly different. Note the shoulder flares. And the sash slipped through bound openings at the front, holds it closely to the figure, and tie youthfully at the back.

The jacket is just a brief little affair, edged with lace. It would be lovely just to make the jacket for a gift. So many women are wearing them for bed jackets to read before they retire. It can be entirely of lace, of crepe silk or of crepe satin.

Style No. 357 includes the pattern for the nightie and the jacket. It is designed in sizes 16, 18, 20 years, 30, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. For Benefit Of Ireland

Money Left To De Valera Will Constitute Trust Fund

Eamon de Valera, president of the Irish Free State, was the winning party in an action concerning the will of Miss Polly Fitzpatrick, a Brighton woman, 72 years old, who was found dead at her home in July, 1932.

Miss Fitzpatrick left a will part of which read: "I give and bequeath to Mr. de Valera my house and all my furniture and effects. The value of the estate is a little more than $15,000.

The will was contested by Jom Fitzpatrick, of Dublin, who claimed his sister was of weak intellect, childish and eccentric, that in late years she had become a recluse, and that she died in a neglected condition, having refused to have medical treatment. When Miss Fitzpatrick died, said counsel for De Valera, she had no relatives with whom she had been in touch for 40 years. She had said that her property was to go to Ireland when she died. She also expressed the view that the only man who had done any good for Ireland was Mr. De Valera.

"It is not Mr. de Valera's intention to profit by a penny piece from this estate. His intention is that the money shall be used by him as a trust for public purposes of the kind which Miss Fitzpatrick was known to approve," said counsel.

Had Fairly Good Luck

One Crop Failure In Eighteen Years Record Of Homesteader

W. L. Clark, in Border Cities Star says: "The ramifications of the poor crop in Western Canada extend to unexpected quarters. For instance, we met a man in Los Angeles who homesteaded a farm near Saskatoon many years ago. He worked the land, improved it and finally got title to the property.

Eighteen years ago he rented the farm on a crop sharing basis. Shortly after that he moved out to California for his home. When he left the prairie he continued to rent his farm on the share understanding. And every year, during the fourteen years he has been in Los Angeles, he has got some return until this year.

He is missing the crop money this winter. Last summer grasshoppers, drought and other things viced his land. The crop was a complete failure. Only once before has such a thing happened. That year he was hailed out, but he had insurance and collected."

Got Their Man

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police took six years but they finally located Israel Slattknoff in Philadelphia and took him to Montreal to face a charge of narcotic drug possession. He pleaded guilty. In 1927, Slattknoff jumped bail in an amount of $11,500 which was forfeited to the crown.

Stamp Collection Is Missing

Defectives Probe Disappearance Of Stamps At St. John's, Newfoundland

Swinging from an extensive investigation into widespread stamp forgeries, government detectives are delving into the mysterious disappearance of stamps valued at more than $60,000 from the St. John's post office and the Newfoundland museum building.

The operatives were tight-lipped as they traced down slender clues, but from the department of justice came an intimation the search might turn toward postal officials.

Difficulty had been met, official statement said in getting information from postal employees because of a fear of becoming conspicuous in any investigation "especially if it implicates his superiors." The government has been collecting for almost a half century.

Part of the vast collection, consisting of stamps from almost every nation, were stored in the museum building, closed since 1930. These were affixed in albums, as were part of those stored in the post office. Others, received since 1925, were in bundles in the post office.

Baling Sheep Pelts

Valuable Information Regarding Proper Method For Shipping

When sheep pelts have to be shipped a long distance to market, they should be carefully spread wool side down, paying close attention to see that all wrinkles or folds are carefully straightened out in the head, side and leg pieces. Salt—about a pound and a half to a peck—should then be evenly sprinkled over the pelt, which is left spread out for a few days until the salt melts and soaks in. It can then be hung up to dry. Drying may be hastened if the pelts are stretched by tacking to a wall or fence in a manner similar to the practice in handling the pelts of fur-bearing animals.

When the sheep pelts are thoroughly dry they may be shipped in safety by placing one on top of the other, and baled in lots of 15 to 25 according to size and weight.—Dressing and Cutting Lamb Carcasses Bulletin, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

HAMILTON GIVES BANQUET FOR CHILDREN IN LONDON

For several years a banquet has been held in the Guildhall, London, England, at which the City of Hamilton, Ontario, has been host to some 1,200 children of the British Capital. Our picture, taken at the forty-first banquet, shows the Lord Mayor of London (lower right), among the children, while the girl pipers of Dagenham prepare to lead the procession into the banquet hall.

An announcement comes from Winnipeg that the provincial government will be asked to support an arctic national park for the protection of game resources in the Fae North.

The proposal comes from Dr. A. D. Bajkov, fisheries expert, biological board of Canada. He suggests it as the first step toward saving Arctic species from extinction. He would transplant and propagate the muskox, which is one of the natural food supplies of the natives.

Dr. Bajkov believes that the ideal park would be a strip of land inside the Churchill river near the seaport. He claims that the preservation of the muskox is not only necessary, but urgent. He says that they have been transplanted to Alaska and Greenland, but they are almost extinct in the Manitoba portion of their range.

Apart from the educational and scientific value of the park, there is another thought. It is that interest in Canada and the United States is moving northward.

A number of indirectly related forces have been working over a period of years, and suddenly joined from different points, to strive for a national park at Churchill.

These widely separated contributing factors included maling promoters in Great Bear driving game ahead of them. Eskimos moving south in search of food; government experts finding animals decreasing in numbers; an authority of the biological board of Canada hoping for action; curiosity seekers looking for entertainment; promoters interested in meat packing plants for semi-domesticated game, hopefully looking northward.

It does not require a wide stretch of the imagination to vision a second Wainwright park at Churchill, where in a few years thousands of muskox may be slaughtered to provide epicurian tables with novelty morsels. As early as 1899, David T. Harbury, efficient northern traveller, set out from Winnipeg to explore the Thelon river, and site of the present game preserve. He noted that there was a stretch of country 80 miles in length, where no human entered.

This natural sanctuary was farther west than the coast had been hunted. It was farther east than the Yellow Knife Indians and the Dog Ribs roamed. It was apparently beyond the northern limits of the Chipewyan bands.

In 1900, J. W. Tyrrell, D.L.S., noted Canadian explorer, covered the ground and recommended Thelon as a game preserve.

In view of these and other explorations, and the fact that Thelon is not in a mineralized zone, the government established the sanctuary by order in council on July 15, 1927.

History In Dots And Dashes

Big Events Chronicled When Telegraph Was First Used

Big events and big names in history were chronicled in the days when the telegraph was a new means of communication, according to F. E. Davey, writing in the Canadian National Railways Magazine. He notes the funeral of the Duke of Wellington, the arrival of Napoleon III, and the Empress Eugenie on an official visit to London; the opening of the first Red Cross hospital by Florence Nightingale in the Crimea war; the laying of the cable by the "Great Eastern"; and the opening of the first train system in London. When the first Christmas telegram was sent between Toronto and Montreal in 1847, Mr. Davey points out, there were less than 700 miles of wire in use. In that year, the Pioneer Central Telegraph Company, forerunner of the Canadian National Telegraph, sent out 28,000 messages. Today, its successor has 25,000 miles of wire and more than 100,000 miles of cable. Exclusive of cables, something like 7,000,000 messages are sent or within a year.

WORLD HAPPENINGS
BRIEFLY TOLD

The Film Flon board of trade is backing The Pas and Cranberry Portage in their renewed fight for a highway outlet to the prairies.

Madame Helena, wife of the noted pianist, Hans Paderewski, died Jan. 16, at their villa in Morges, Switzerland. She was 74 years old.

The Communist Stephan Kapur, sentenced to death for slaying a Nazi storm trooper, hanged himself in prison.

Georges Jeanniot, noted artist and illustrator of the books of Victor Hugo, Guy De Maupassant and Emile Zola, died in Paris recently, at the age of 85.

Following his visit to South Africa, Prince George, youngest son of his majesty is expected to make a six-month journey to Australia without, however, touching Canada.

Lord Rothermere's advocacy of Fascism as a form of government for the United Kingdom was denounced in a slashing editorial by the Daily Herald, official organ of the Labor party.

In the past four months beet growers in southern Alberta have received nearly $1,000,000 in crop payments. This includes final payment on the 1932 crop. A final instalment of $87,000 on the 1933 crop was paid Jan. 13.

A new record for a flight between Edmonton and Winnipeg has been established by Pilot G. N. Forster, of Canadian Airways. Recently he laid his plane down in Winnipeg five hours and five minutes out of the Alberta city, 700 miles away.

Wireless sets for the police of London seemed a good idea until they were tried. Experiments have shown that they are not practicable in London and other large cities where transmission of messages is rendered uncertain by atmospheric conditions and electrical disturbances.

Marvels of the Human Eye

By F. M. CROWE, Optometrist-Optician, Calgary

NO. 6—ASTIGMATISM

We now come to a very common defect of the eye, one little understood by the public many of whom consider it a visible inflammatory condition or disease or that it is a temporary ailment, which is not so.

The simplest explanation of Astigmatism would be to describe it as an eyeball in which one or both refractive surfaces (Lens and Cornea) are not symmetrically curved. Try and visualize a perfectly round ball of glass from which you cut a slice. Now the Cornea of the eye should be as equally curved in all directions as a slice of glass and when it is not, the condition is known as Astigmatism. It is usually congenital but may be acquired by a blow or result from a scar after an ulcer has healed. It is also considered probable that many cases of Astigmatism have resulted from undue pressure on the eyeball in infancy by the parent washing the child's eyes, also by children rubbing their eyes in the horizontal direction in their "crying" years as it is usually in this horizontal direction that Astigmatism exists. An unsymmetrical (not uniformly curved) Lens is usually due to the muscles forcing it to assume a shape which will, as near as possible, offset or neutralize the mal-formed cornea, in the interests of good vision.

We have seen that rays of light from any object, to be seen clearly and comfortably, must focus on the Retina and to do so must pass through symmetrically curved surfaces which you see is impossible where Astigmatism exists because the focus is a blurred line instead of a sharp point. The poor vision which would result from Astigmatism of moderate amount is often overcome by the action of the eye Lens. The third motor nerve sends power to the Ciliary muscle (which controls the action of the Lens) and the Lens is forced into an unnatural shape in the effort to obtain a clear brain image. But imagine, if you can, the excessive amount of nerve energy used up by such eyes for say sixteen hours daily year after year. Is it any wonder such people eventually break down under the strain?

Some symptoms of Astigmatism are headaches, nervousness, irritability, loss of "pep", tilting of the head to see better, nausea, indigestion, chronic constipation and even St. Vitus' Dance. Different individuals are differently affected. The symptoms occur in an individual depend upon the age, temperament, physique and occupation.

Strange as it may seem the discomfort experienced as a result of Astigmatism is not at all in proportion to the amount of error. In fact it usually bears the reverse ratio as we find the better the vision the greater the eyestrain where a small amount of error exists. It is estimated that normal eyes use about thirty-five per cent of the nerve energy of a normal body. How much is used by eyes that are abnormal? Could a body remain healthy under such circumstances? You answer.

We have no more reason to expect the eyes to be perfect than the features or any other organ. Neither are they so and few eyes are without some degree of Astigmatism. A small amount can be tolerated by many without discomfort especially in outdoor occupations, but the present age of excessive close work, study, reading for pleasure, strong electric light, moving pictures and "glare" from almost everything we look at, all tend to manifest the defects in the human eye. It is doubtful if our forefathers' eyes were any better or worse than those of this generation but they lived differently, ate differently, retired earlier, had plenty of soothing green grass and trees to soothe the mind and the reflections from city pavements and roads, auto radiators, store windows, etc. What artificial light they used was coal oil or gas, not electricity which is charged with rays harmful to the eyes.

Am I advocating a return to the old condition of things? By no means. I am merely pointing out that "eye-conditions" and many ailments remote from, yet due to eye conditions, is part of the price we are paying for advancing civilization. It has taken quite a time for me to tell you the worst. Now comes much better news. Science has again come to our aid in the form of instruments which, in the hands of a skillful optometrist, measures the amount and kind of Astigmatism and other eye defects—also machinery for grinding special lenses, which when worn entirely neutralize the effects of the abnormal condition, with resultant normal vision, normal amount of nerve energy used for the eyes leaving the other organs with their proper share. The unpleasant eye and bodily symptoms disappear, work is more efficient and life is enjoyed instead of tolerated.

Bridge Advice Costly

The Dayton News says an argument took place in a women's bridge game—as they often do. A technical question of cutting the cards was referred by two disputants to a New York bridge authority by telegram. The answer came quickly. Next day came a bill from the expert for $30. The women took it to a lawyer. He charged them $5 for his advice. Total cost, $35.

In the first eight months of this year 20,000,000 tons of shipping passed through the St. Lawrence, a large increase over the same period of 1932.

It is estimated that if all the ice of Greenland and Antarctica should melt, enough water would be added to the oceans to raise their level 150 feet. This would drown out most of the world's great seaports.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JANUARY 28

STANDARDS OF THE KINGDOM

Golden Text: "Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God." Matthew 5:8.

Lesson: Matthew 5:1-48.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 15.

Explanations and Comments

Receipts for Blessings, verses 3-10. "Blessed"—with this word Jesus begins each of the "Beatitudes," as we call these verses, from Beat. Blessed, the word with which they begin in the Latin version. Blessed means something more than happy; it implies a deeper, holier joy. Happiness may seem to depend upon circumstances, upon what one has or does; blessedness always depends upon relationship to God, upon what one is. "Blessedness," writes E. C. Giffin, "is inward and abiding; outward prosperity cannot give it, nor can adversity take it away. It is like the depths of the ocean: the surface is changeable, sometimes calm and waveless, sometimes tossed hither and thither by the restless winds; while deep below there is ever the same changeless rest, silence and peace."

And who are blessed? The poor in spirit, said Jesus. "Poor in spirit" is in no sense poor-spirited; rather it is the truest manliness. The poor in spirit are the humble-minded, who are conscious of their need of God. "The gospel has never had more power with people who want nothing better than what they have, nor with those who, being greatly in need—as indeed we all are—have never known it. The gospel comes into the world, so the institutions teach us, not through the door of pride, but the door of humility; not through the road of satisfaction, but the road of longing" (Gaius Glenn Atkins).

"The life that needs nothing, or thinks that it needs nothing, does not reach upward, and soon drops its connection with the Giver of all good."

Would Catch Sea Serpent

De p Sea Fisherman Submits Plan To Victoria People

George P. Wilson, experienced deep-sea fisherman of San Diego, Calif., has proposed a method of catching cuttlefish, one of the many Victoria sea serpent stories.

Wilson advises use of raw meat or a large fish as bait. He suggests a barbed hook at least a foot long and six inches wide attached to 50 feet of half-inch steel cable, then 50 yards of one-inch manila rope. The rope would be attached to a 50-gallon watertight oil drum and another 50 yards of manila rope would lead to a second drum. The entire "line" would be towed from a motorboat.

"Once caught," said Wilson, "Caddy would find his progress handicapped by two heavy drums if he had designs on the boat. If he dived and had sufficient strength to drag the barrels under, they would soon force him to the surface. In time he would become exhausted and his captors could easily tow him ashore."

May Be Badly Printed

But Bible Still Retains Its High Place in Literature

The Bible may be as described by the Rev. Percy Dearmer, canon of Westminster Abbey in London, the worst printed book in the world. He complains that it is offered in formidable form, with titles of essays and poems left out and chapters divided into verses of convenient length for parsing.

From the editorial and typographical viewpoint, there may be room for argument and perhaps some support of Canon Dearmer's criticism. Evidently he is not alone as witness several attempts to modernize the Bible in up-to-date vernacular and rearrangement of verses.

But from the circulation standpoint there is no point in the criticism. The Bible, if it be the worst printed book, remains also the most printed book, the most widely read not only as Holy Writ but also purely as a high peak in literature.—San Francisco Chronicle.

PREMIERS FROM WEST DENY ANY EXTRAVAGANCE

Ottawa.—Spokesmen for the four western provinces were understood to have cited facts and figures to show recent allegations of governmental extravagances on their part were unfounded as they addressed the Dominion-provincial conference.

The premier of one province west of the Great Lakes is believed to have made a comprehensive reply to criticism directed at the west and to have been supported by representatives of the other three regardless of party persuasion.

Critics of the west, it is believed were challenged to produce a single reputable banking or bond house which would not say the west had gone further than any other part of Canada in cutting governmental expenditures to meet the stress of falling revenues.

As to the charge that loan guarantees and advances made by the federal government to the western governments would not be repaid, the western spokesmen cited facts and figures to prove the contrary. Given dollar with one more cent, westerner said, on three items of revenue alone the prairie provinces could balance their budgets and meet their obligations to the last dollar.

Another thing often forgotten, the conference is said to have been told, was that the western provinces for years had protested the bringing in of immigrants by the federal government. Now 65 per cent of the population on relief were people who had come to Canada within the last five years.

An analysis of the distribution of the Dominion governments expenditures on public works is believed to have been presented to show that the west got less than its equitable share on the basis of population. Figures on federal subsidies were cited with the same end view.

Speakers at the session, it was understood, included Premier John Bracken of Manitoba, Premier T. D. Pattullo of British Columbia, Premier J. E. Brownlee of Alberta and Hon. M. A. MacPherson, attorney-general and treasurer of Saskatchewan.

Cruising In Lifeboat

Norwegian Making Second Atlantic Crossing In Frail Craft
Halifax.—Somewhere in mid-Atlantic a frail little shell of a boat is plowing along between Africa and South America. Aboard is Alfons Hansen, with his dog and cat. The navigator is heading for Rio de Janeiro from Sierra Leone, in Africa. A postcard to a friend here brought word of his latest venture. His craft is a lifeboat decked over and equipped with sails. In it the strange trio has already crossed the Atlantic once—from Hansen's native Norway to North America.

Would Not Change Matters

Washington.—Replying to a speech by Senator J. Hamilton Lewis, Democrat from Illinois, that the St. Lawrence treaty would give Great Britain a "military avenue through the United States," Senator Arthur Vandenberg, Michigan Republican, told the United States senate, Britain and Canada have every navigation right on the Great Lakes now that they would have under the new pact.

Informers Gets Prize

Toronto.—As a "common informer," Leslie Saunders, telephone employee, of Niagara Falls, was awarded an automobile won by William Mollison, bank clerk, in a draw held at a service club carnival last July. Mr. Justice Charles Garrow, in Osgoode hall, made the award.

Deputy Minister Of Labor

Ottawa.—The appointment of William M. Dickson as deputy minister of labor was announced officially here. His appointment dates from Jan. 1. Mr. Dickson has been private secretary of Hon. Wesley Gordon, minister of labor.

Trappers Are On Rations

Winter Trails To North Impassable And Supplies Are Delayed

Prince Albert, Sask.—Northern trappers and traders are on rations as overland freight trails, beset by unprecedented difficulties of travel, are a month and a half late in arriving at Lac La Ronge and other trading centres.

Heavy falls of snow which came before frosts had provided a solid covering for northern muskies have rendered heavily travelled winter trails impassable. Horses, foundering about in the slush, and drivers and helpers, wet to their waists have battled through only to the north end of Montreal lake, slightly more than half the distance to the principal northern point.

Fresh frosts harden the broken trail, but there still remains 70 miles, mostly over muskeg, to be broken.

Flour and sugar are becoming a rarity in many northern camps and trading posts were out of many of the staple commodities until aeroplane, pressed into service in emergency, have commenced to bring relief.

Aviator's Strange Experience

Encountered Weather So Warm Grease Melted On Plane

Edmonton.—One more example of the almost unbelievable flying conditions pilots of the far north country must endure is cited by Pilot W. Leigh Brimble, president of the Mackenzie Air Service, on his return to the city after two flights into the Nahanni river country, northwest of Fort Simpson. On his second flight into the country, carrying a party of mining engineers, Brimble's plane from Simpson in weather nearly 70 below zero.

As the flight progressed into the mysterious Nahanni, land of the supposed "tropical" valleys, he flew into a "Chinook," a warm current which apparently swept in over the mountains from some part of the Japan current. Within a short time the air was so warm that heavy grease, plastered on the shock-absorbing springs of his ski-fitted landing gear, melted and ran down the undercarriage.

Garment Workers Strike

One Manufacturer In Toronto Says Demands Are Reasonable

Toronto.—More than 2,000 garment workers went on strike here, completely paralyzing the industry, with demands for higher wages and shorter hours which at least one manufacturer conceded were reasonable. But he said employers were unable to do anything without government intervention.

"The garment industry," declared S. Davies of the Davies Clark Co., "needs someone like Roosevelt to step in with his NRA, take control, put a stop to cut-throat competition, stipulate maximum working hours and see that the workers get a decent wage."

"The situation is so widespread that government intervention is the only thing that will be any use," he said. "All the charges that workers make are true."

Shows Great Improvement

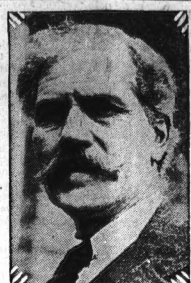

Bureau Of Statistics Issues Annual Review Of Employment

Ottawa.—Reflecting a steady march of workers back into gainful employment after long or short periods of idleness, the Dominion bureau of statistics has issued its annual review of employment covering 1933. A distinct upward trend, starting about April 1, is shown in the figures which are based on the payroll reports of some 8,140 employers.

In all, 148,900 people were added to the number of wage-earners in Canada by these firms from April 1 to Dec. 1. During that period the index number of employment (based on 1926 at 100) jumped 15.8 points or 20.8 per cent from year's low of 76.0 to 91.8.

Payrolls were increased in the prairie provinces by 13,600 and in British Columbia by 13,900.

OPENS CAMPAIGN

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald has opened a speaking campaign to explain the aims of the National government to electors of the country. He will speak at Leeds this week.

Asks Stronger Air Force

Winston Churchill Pleads For More Adequate Protection

New York.—Declaring Great Britain is "in a tight spot with many dangers," Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill called in an address in London for the building of a strong protective air force and full co-operation with the League of Nations.

A transcript of the address, made available in New York, quoted the former chancellor of the exchequer as saying:

"The hideous curse of war from the air has fallen upon the world, and I say to you, don't you think we ought to try to make ourselves strong against attack from the air as our navy used to make us against invasion across the sea?"

Adopt White Baby

Chinese In Vancouver Legally Adopt Six-Month-Old Child

Vancouver.—Leave to adopt a six-month-old white boy was given a Chinese couple in supreme court by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald.

The foster parents are Lim Won, proprietor of a Victoria greenhouse, 42, and his wife, Lim Loo Shee, aged 28.

The boy will bear the name of Bryan Denis Lim, and will be brought up in the religion of his foster parents, who are Protestants.

BANK CRASH CAUSES TROUBLE FOR FRENCH CABINET

ALEXANDRE STAVISKY

ALBERT DALIMIER

Facing a chamber of angry deputies, Premier Chautemps was forced to defend his regime from corruption charges as a result of the gigantic Bayonne pawnshop swindle, while mobs rioted outside the Chamber in Paris. Boldly scoffing at the police assertion that Alexandre Stavisky, central figure in the bank crash, committed suicide, influential Parisian papers demand a full investigation of the case, known throughout France as "L'affaire Stavisky." Already one Cabinet Minister, Albert Dalimier, minister of colonies, has resigned over his connection with the case, and Joseph Garat, mayor of Bayonne, is under arrest. What the French people want to know is how Stavisky, a native of Russia, known to the police as an inveterate swindler and forger, was allowed to operate for years, perpetrating frauds that will cause a loss of $31,000,000 to investors. High political influence is hinted and sensational disclosures predicted.

CAMILLE CHAUTEMPS

Anticipate Change In Dollar

Parliament May Be Asked To Reduce Gold Content

Toronto.—The Toronto Globe in a special despatch from its Ottawa correspondent said parliament will be asked, according to belief in cabinet circles, to reduce the gold content of the Canadian dollar.

The Globe said: "The adoption by statute of such a lower gold content for the Canadian dollar would, undoubtedly, have widespread reaction. It would in due time reduce by one-third the burden of all indebtedness payable in Canadian currency, and would tend to increase prices of commodities in the domestic trade of Canada in similar proportion."

The newspaper said there was now agitation in favor of parliament fixing a new gold standard "of say, 14 grains or 15 grains of pure gold to the dollar."

The present statutory gold content of the dollar is 23.22 grains.

Stratosphere Flights Planned

Two Announced By U.S. National Geographic Society

Washington.—Plans for two new stratosphere flights with the largest balloon ever constructed, designed to reach an altitude of 15 miles, have been announced by the National Geographic society and army air corps.

The two ascents, scheduled for June and September, will seek to reach the greatest height to which it is practicable for a balloon to lift a man. The crew of the new stratosphere balloon will consist of Captain Albert W. Stevens, noted observer and photographer, of the air corps, and Major William Kepner, air corps balloon expert, with First Lieutenant Orville A. Anderson, air corps, as alternate.

Will Eliminate Competition

Provinces Agree To Hold Fishing Seasons At Different Times

Winnipeg.—Agreements for elimination of competitive fishing seasons of the lakes of Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta were tentatively arrived at at the inter-provincial fisheries conference called by Hon. J. S. McDiarmid, minister of natural resources for Manitoba.

Instead of fishing seasons of the different provinces being held simultaneously, it was agreed they should be held as far as possible at different times so wasteful flooding of the market would be eliminated.

NO CURRENCY WAR BETWEEN U.S. AND BRITAIN

London.—A secret mission to London recently by a member of President Roosevelt's "brain trust" was reported here as the basis of an informal currency agreement which may hold the pound around a $5 ratio.

Americans in close touch with official circles in London heard various reports that a monetary expert of the United States government came here soon after the resignation of Oliver M. W. Sprague as financial executive assistant to the secretary of the treasury on November 21.

The expert was said to have had conferences with Bank of England officials and to have arrived at an understanding about methods by which London and Washington would be kept informed of each other's policy. No formal agreement was proposed or deemed necessary, but the basis of the understanding was believed to be to let market trends take their course, with exchange equalization funds used to iron out fluctuations in currencies.

Highest authorities, meanwhile, gave assurance that rumors of an Anglo-American currency war as the result of President Roosevelt's revaluation were without foundation. Officials of the treasury and Bank of England were silent on the matter.

Earthquake Takes Heavy Toll

Report From India States 2,000 Killed In Disaster

Calcutta.—Reports of damage and loss of life far beyond original estimates flowed into Calcutta from all parts of India shaken in violent earthquakes on January 15. These unconfirmed reports indicated an estimate of 2,000 dead would not be excessive.

Known dead stood at 1,122 as officials awaited further word from stricken areas, particularly Muzaffarpur, Jamalpur, Patna, Benares and Bankura.

Hundreds were reported killed in Muzaffarpur. Dead bodies and the streets were littered with corpses.

Relief was being speeded to cities which suffered most heavily from the quake. Tents and provisions were despatched to Jamalpur where 33 were killed and 130 buildings destroyed. The populace in the Patna district, fearing further shocks, was living in the open. In that region 56 were killed. Mild shocks continued but were nothing in comparison to the first one which rocked all India.

Seed Grain Is Mixed

Poor Quality Being Used In Saskatchewan Drought Areas

Saskatoon.—Seed grain used in the areas of Saskatchewan that have had crop failures is now poorer and more mixed than at any time in the history of the province. F. W. Townsend-Smith, president of the Saskatchewan branch of the Canadian Seed Growers' association, warned members of the provincial body in convention here.

A special committee of the association is working on a plan to aid the grower of registered seed to sell his product, he announced.

General Currie's Horse Dies

Montreal.—Barely a month and a half after his master died, mourned by the multitude that knew him in war and peace, General Sir Arthur Currie's cherished charger—Black—died unknown to anybody in his stall at Sir Arthur's brother's farm at Strathroy, Ont., it was learned here.

Endorse World Peace

Edmonton.—Endorsing every action assuring world peace, the United Farm Women of Alberta's convention here called Hon. Arthur Henderson, chairman of the disarmament conference at Geneva, commending him for his work and urging continuation of all endeavors to prevent war.

"Scots' Wha' Hae!"

Well, Laddie, today's "the day." If ye no ken what's meant, we'll say 'tis Burns's anniversary—January 25th, on the evening of which the memory of the immortal Scot will be celebrated all over the English-speaking world. While Burns was essentially Scotch and wrote many of his poems in the dialect of his countrymen, the humanism of his work and the loftiness of thought make a universal appeal, so in the broader sense he can be truly termed a poet of the people and for the masses of the people throughout the world. Burns was one of the greatest democrats who ever lived. His poem "A Man's Man for 'a' that" breathes such a true spirit of democracy that it will live for all time. His "Scots' Wha' Hae" Wallace Bled is considered the greatest war ode ever written.

Burns breathed a kindliness in his writings which endears him to all mankind. Stars have grown dim with time, but the star of Bobbie Burns shines as brightly today as it ever did, undimmed by time. Burns, like Shakespeare, "was not of an age but for all time."

OCCASIONAL WIFE

by EDNA ROSS WEBSTER

Author of "Joretta," "Lipstick Girl," Etc.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. At a party at an exclusive club Peter entertains Camilla's guests with impersonations. When the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the party, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Avis is stunned and Camilla's mother likewise.

(Now Go On With The Story.)

CHAPTER XXVII

Camilla's unshaken faith in Peter and her quiet resignation to any opinion or ultimatum, had mollified Mrs. Hoyt, somewhat. She did not disown her as a daughter or command her to leave the Hoyt household, but Camilla decided for herself that it would be the wiser course. She consulted with Rose about renting a small apartment at once.

"I have enough to live on for a few weeks, and I'll surely find work soon," she explained. She had met Rose downtown for the lunch hour and they were facing each other across a little oxeye-topped table in a tearoom, when Peter told Rose about her marriage to Peter.

"So you're married?" Rose had reproached her. "That's no way to go into business—or marriage, either. You don't know what you are or what you want. Gee! kid, if I had your chance to be somebody—talent like you've got and a swell education—I wouldn't look at a man."

"As soon as I get work, Rose, I'll help you to go to night school for that secretarial course," Camilla promised generously.

"That's what I want, all right. And you won't see me hitching up to drag a truck after me, just when I get in form, either. Single harness for me and a light, fancy load behind that is mostly my wish."

"You will forget all those resolutions if you ever fall in love, Rose," Camilla smiled kindly, with her own wisdom.

Rose waved the suggestion aside with a flourish of her fork. "I don't believe in that kind of love anymore. I believe there's a Santa Claus. But say, why do you want to live with me, now? Why don't you go and live with your husband, now that the secret is out?"

"Whether or not it's a secret, has nothing to do with that, Peter and I agreed to live apart until he is able to take care of me. That may be for a long time yet."

"That's goofy, I'll say. Why wouldn't it be better for you to shuffle your incomes and go fifty-fifty? Plenty of couples do that and manage to get along."

"And plenty of them don't. No, Rose, when a girl gives her heart to her work for a salary and tries to keep house, she has to let down on one of them. Naturally, it's the housekeeping. As a wife, she fails; or at least, home becomes so unpleasant that the man and woman get to thinking it is each other they hate. No, until Peter can take care of me, what he sees of me will be my best. We shall only be together for pleasure, just as if we were lovers. That way, we always shall be saved, and our happiness will be loved for the future."

"Oh, I see," laughed Rose, "you prefer being an occasional wife—something like those occasional chairs and tables they advertise to have around the house for extra use. They're there, ready to be used whenever they're needed. Handy that way, all right."

For an instant, Camilla resented her sister's comparison, then she laughed, also. "Put it that way if you wish I'll add to the metaphor. The occasional chair is not used so much as the old armchair and it stays never looking and is treated with more respect. It is the guest chair. That is what I shall be to Peter—his guest-wife."

"Well, it's all right to be a guest and sit in a bright new occasional chair for an evening, but you sure do like to get home again and slouch down in the old armchair that knows every crook and turn of your disposition, even if it is worn to threads on the arms where yours have rested when you're tired."

Camilla was delighted with Rose's sudden burst of droll philosophy. How wise she was, in spite of her limited education and training. She would make a shrewed business woman without a doubt, and Camilla resolved that she would sacrifice if necessary, to assure her more training for the position of which she was capable.

"Peter isn't going to be much concerned with comfy armchairs or wives, either, for awhile," she continued. "Right now, he is so busy that he scarcely knows he has a wife. And that's what I'll have to do, to get work. I'll have to try harder, and perhaps just take any kind of work to get started. Happen to know of anything at all I could do?"

"Not a thing. If I weren't the only file clerk at Dawson's, I'd be afraid of my own job. Wherever two people are working at the same time, there's a possibility of elimination these days. You should be glad you have it easy, and forget about hunting for a job that some other girl needs."

"There's nothing fair about that idea. Anyone who has enough ambition and ability to work, has a right to. And I want to leave the Hoyts right away. I want to start being independent, and I'll promise not to be a burden to you. Can't we look for a place on Saturday? Rents are lower now, and I've been noticing the food prices. It won't cost you any more than living at home and you've been wanting to leave. Ed and Henry can take care of the rest all right, and you know I'll tell you to do as you wished."

"Oh, sure, I do want to get away, and live more like you do, Camilla. I was only thinking about you. I'm afraid you won't like it, after being used to having everything so grand."

"You just imagine it's grand, honey. You wouldn't think so if you could trade places."

"Well, I wish I could for awhile—that's all. I wouldn't be looking for trouble as you do. All right, then, I'll be seeing you Saturday. If you have time, you might look around. If you see anything you like, it'll be okay with me. You know as well as I do what we can afford to do with nothing and me with eighteen a week, she shrugged.

Peter looked up from his work to discover Gus Matson standing in the doorway, grinning broadly. "Oh, hello!" he exclaimed. "Come in."

Gus sauntered into the room. "Quite a surprise to see me?"

"Yeah. Where have you been all summer?"

"I went around. Didn't think you wanted to see me," he dropped into a chair and glanced up surreptitiously.

"That's all over," Peter dismissed the past. "Sorry you made a fool of yourself."

"Hain't a fellow a right to make love to a girl if he wants to?"

"Sure. But that's not what I mean, and you know it."

"Oh, well, all's fair in—"

"That was neither," Peter interrupted him sternly.

"Oh, yeah? Gonna start bossin' me again?"

"I should say not. I wouldn't consider the job again. Is that what you came here for, to offer me a chance to be your guardian again?"

"No—and yes, fact is, I'm up against it, and I wonder if you could help me a little. Peter, you always were a good scout. I have some work promised after next month, but I gotta eat until then."

"While you finish your piece for the exhibit? It's the same with me."

"Exhibit? Who said I was working for the exhibit?"

"Aren't you?" surprised.

"No. Are you?"

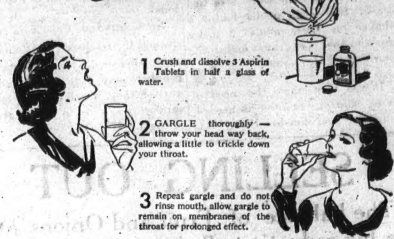

"Why, yes—thought you had the same model."

"Say, d'you suppose I'm crazy enough to think I have a chance to win anything you enter?"

"I don't know, why not. Besides, it brings your work to the attention of the right people. That's the reason I'm entering. I'd like to win, of course, but I don't expect to."

Now! Ease Sore Throat Instantly!

1 Crush and dissolve 3 Aspirin Tablets in half a glass of water.

2 GARGLE thoroughly—throw your head way back, allowing a little to trickle down your throat.

3 Repeat gargle and do not rinse mouth, allow gargle to remain on membranes of the throat for prolonged effect.

Remember: Only Medicine Helps Sore Throat

Modern medicine now throws an entirely new light on sore throat. A way that eases the pain, rawness and irritation in as little as two to three minutes!

It requires medicine—like ASPIRIN—to do these things! That is why throat specialists throughout the world are prescribing this ASPIRIN gargle in place of old-time ways.

Be careful, however, that you get Aspirin Tablets for this purpose.

Aspirin is the trademark of The Bayer Company, Limited, and the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on each tablet. They dissolve completely enough to gargle without leaving irritating particles.

Unusual Situation in China

Women Gain Prominence And Are Crowding Men Out

Women, from sing-song girls to university professors, are so much in the news in China that they are crowding the men out of the picture.

The Chinese, long accustomed to keeping their women behind the orchid door, now find them very much in the open. At dinner parties, balls, theatricals, sports events and all public and social functions Chinese women are very much in evidence.

General Han Fu-chi, Governor of Shantung, who is a militarist of the old school, is a convert. On a recent visit to Peking he complained bitterly because officials here spent so much time in the company of women. But on his last inspection tour of his own province he was accompanied by two women propagandists. In all the cities and towns he visited he turned the women loose to tell their sisters to bob their hair and quit binding their feet.

The increasing prominence of women in the news has revived the ancient Chinese legend of a land inhabited entirely by women. Research indicates that the land referred to in the tale was meant to be the Kurile Islands. The yarn has that in the old days the Kuriles were inhabited by fisher-women who knew nothing about men.

A Few Sips—A Few Cents—Coughs, Colds Gone

Buckley's is so remarkably good that one dose gives unmistakable relief. Two doses may stop your cough or cold entirely. Goodbye to the cough, cold, croup, whooping cough, influenza, sore throat, and all other ailments. It's safe, it's a first-class single sip proves it. New Type Of Kitchen

One Feature Is Cupboard That Becomes Dining Table

The American furniture industry opened its 20th annual show in Chicago with everything from bird cages to washing machines on display in the spacious Furniture Mart on Lake Shore drive.

Buyers will find the 1934 kitchen, a distinct innovation.

Besides the stove, cupboard and other appointments this kitchen has a "planning desk" wherein the housewife becomes the home executive.

Another novelty is the five-shelf cupboard that becomes a dining room table without even disturbing the dishes on the shelves.

Whitling said he expected the show to mark a revival in the industry.

Little Helps For This Week

I pray not that Thou shouldst take them out of the world, but that Thou shouldst keep them from the evil.—John 17:15.

In busy mart and crowded street, No less than in the still retreat, Thou Lord art near our souls to bless.

With all a Father's tenderness.

The individual conscience, and He who is greater than the conscience, can tell where worldliness prevails. Each heart must answer for itself, and at its own risk. That our souls are committed to our own keeping, at our own peril in a world so mixed as this, is the last reason we should slumber over the charge or betray the trust. If only that outlet to the infinite is kept open, the inner bond with eternal life preserved, while not one movement of this world's business is interfered with nor one beat of its happiness repressed, with all natural associations dear and cherished, with all human sympathies dear and warm, we shall yet be near the kingdom of heaven. In the world, but not of it, they lived out of it but kept from its evil.—J. H. Tatom.

From the Blue Line.

Stony lost the first game on home ice to the Edmonton Journal last Sunday by 4 goals to 2. Stony twice had the lead, but just could not keep it. F. Anders opened up the scoring in the first period, and the first breather left us 1 up. In the 2d Stony's defense opened up like a sieve and the score was tied 2 all; the local goalie hadn't a chance on these goals: 2 lucky goals in the last frame ended the scoring and the game.

It was seen that the need of more skating practice is needed, and more goal finish. Stony was able to hold its own in the early stages, but the forwards tired easily. The kid line in particular certainly did not live up to expectations.

Next Sunday Concordia visits us, and if the locals don't click for a win there will be reason for the people to stay at home; but, even at that, they deserve a lot better support. It's up to you to give it to them.—H.C.O.

Stony Plain and District

Pastor Kuring held Lutheran services in English Sunday evening in town. English services will be held at Saint John's Lutheran church next Sunday Evg. Jan. 28, at 7.30 p.m. You are welcome.

Local Scotsmen intend going to the City this evening, to help celebrate the 175th anniversary of the birth of the immortal Bobbie Burns.

Eddie Gitzel is goalie for the Junior hockey team at Wembley.

Stony's Junior hockeyists, who have not, as yet, made a public appearance this season, are expecting to play a good game some good Sunday before Good Friday.

Auction Sale of Land.

There will be offered for sale at the local P. O. Saturday next a parcel of land lying 2 miles south of town. The parcel consists of parts of two quarters originally homesteaded by members of the Miller family. A recent owner was Mr Karl Kulak. The parcel comprises 60 acres, and the terms of sale are said to be reasonable.

Brightbank News

A record crowd from this district attended the big opening at Hansens on the 5th.

Miss Tina Krause, who has been a resident of Woodland for some time, is at present staying with her sister, Mrs B Erickson.

Mewassin's amusement club with L. Akins Pres, are getting ready to put on another play. Their last play was taken over to Valley View, and was well received. Brightbankers have sent the players an invitation to visit this district.

Lucknow girls basket ball club will put on a novelty dance early in February.

Miss M Young was a week end visitor with Miss G Sumnerfield.

Successful Co-ops.

It is estimated there was a business turnover of $375,000 during the past year by Co-op. societies in Alberta. There are 20 constituency or district Co-op. societies, in addition to 131 U. F. A. Locals not yet organised into district Co-ops, which had done business directly with Central office at Calgary. The societies operate for buying purposes, thru the U. F. A. Central office. In this way, it is claimed large savings have been made to members of locals in the price of articles purchased.

Hansen's Corners.

The newly finished Community Hall at Hansen's was opened on the 12th, with everything free to everybody. The story in connection with this hall goes to show what members of an enterprising community can do, and how their efforts have been crowned with success.

The new hall is 60x24 feet, of sawn logs, neatly put together by competent workmen. Thanks are due the trio who built it: Messrs C Young; J J Clausen, Douglas McDonald. Had it not been for them there would have been no hall for some time. At the opening the Hall was crowded to the roof; 332 being present.

Mr J McLean is making a slow recovery from his recent illness.

Miss Costa, our new teacher, has a big school to handle, and has made a good start.

It was surprising the number of Scotch people who attended the free dance on the 12th. But, of course, everything was free.

There will be another big doings in the Hall; the date to be announced later.

Card of Thanks.

The members of Hansen's Corners Community wish to thank very heartily the merchants and all others in Stony Plain who contributed so generously toward the erection of their new hall; and also for the "good cheer" sent them which made the opening night such a great success.

Strass' Bungalow Leaves Town

Carl Strass's house, which formerly decorated the landscape at the end of 3d ave., arrived last week in Edmonton, after about a week on the road. It is now located on 169th St. near 109th ave. The work of hauling was done with a caterpillar tractor, and the outfit left Stony by the South road. Part of the trip was made over plowed fields, after fences had been removed. On its arrival on location, the speedometer on the tractor showed 30 miles.

Lights on All Vehicles.

At the closing session of the U. F. convention in Edmonton last Friday a resolution carried, asking for provincial legislation requiring reflectors on all vehicles using main and secondary highways. In adopting this resolution, the delegates reversed the stand taken at previous conventions, when resolutions asking for such an enactment had always been turned down. While there was some lively debate on this at Friday's session, the resolution carried with a good majority.

Old Geo. Nichols Passes On.

Another oldtimer of the district passed away in the City on the 18th in the person of Mr Geo Nichols. He was in his 78th year, and had farmed in the Blueberry district for a number of years, removing recently to Edmonton to reside with a daughter.

On Monday morning the funeral service was held at St Joseph's R. C. Church, Rev C Keenan officiating, and interment was made in Spruce Grove cemetery. Deceased was well known here, and had a large circle of friends. The funeral was well attended, and there was quite a number of floral offerings.

He leaves to mourn his loss 4 daughters: Mrs E W Bell, Mrs A E Smith, Mrs R Brunet, Miss B Nichols, all of Edmonton; 3 sons, George A, Walter, Milow.

Spruce Grove News

Mrs W J Connolly left on Monday, to visit with Mrs Gordon-Maynes.

Miss Ruth Puetzsch is, this week, teaching at the local school, relieving Miss V Zimner, who is ill in Edmonton.

Mrs L L Piercy, who has been under the doctor's care, on Monday entered the Royal Alex hospital, for treatment.

The all-absorbing question: Has anyone seen Flat Tire Spike?

The bazar and chicken supper held on Tuesday evening at the Grove restaurant, in aid of St Joseph's R. C. Church, was well patronised.

Mr M Schellenberger has just finished sinking a 65 foot well at Glory Hills School-house.

A number of his old friends in the Grove district attended the funeral service at a local church Monday morning for the late George Nichols.

Mr Geo Bavington was elected a director for West Edmonton by the U. F. A. at their convention last week at the Capital. George had also been elected a director for the same district by the U. F. A. the day before.

The Grove restaurant opened this week, with Mrs Emory Callahan in charge.

His friends and old neighbors at the Grove were surprised to read of the death in Edmonton on Sunday night of Geo F Harris, the insurance man. Mr Harris lived at the Grove for a time, having built the house on Main street just north of Connolly's store. He was doing quite a big insurance business at that time in the Grove district and the district south. Later on his business engagements seemed to center at the Camrose district, and he sold his house in the Grove, and moved with his wife to Edmonton, finding the City more convenient and central. He was 46 years of age, and had been ill but a short time. He is survived by his wife Doris May Harris and two sisters. The funeral was held yesterday afternoon, Rev C G Stone officiating, and interment was made in Edmonton cemetery.
